Testing Lab Forensic Array Processing Results and Conclusions:

Samples HMG1913-0036-E01b (48ul of DNA extract @ 0.0277ng/ul) and HMG1913-0036-E01c (48ul of DNA extract @ 0.0183ng/ul) were submitted for processing using genome sequencing. Sample HMG1913-0036-E01b was selected for genome sequencing, and a call rate of 87.6% was obtained. These results are suitable for upload into GEDMatch.

The closest familial link is 750 shared centimorgans (cM), which is approximately in the 1st-2nd cousin range. Based on this information, further genealogical research was conducted by Bode.

The genetic information related to GEDmatch kit JZ1016141 (assigned alias: Barry W) was used to perform a genealogical search to provide an investigative lead to Mr. John Eakin. The sample information is to be used for RESEARCH and INVESTIGATIVE PURPOSES ONLY.

Recommendation:

Bode recommends further research into Arthur H. Kelder (1916-1942) as a possible candidate for these unidentified remains.

See attached Affidavit.

Notes:

1. Any reference to body fluids in evidence descriptions are based on the written descriptions of the samples by the submitting agency.
2. DNA extract remains for sample HMG1913-0036-E01b (~28ul @ 0.0277ng/ul) and sample HMG1913-0036-E01c (~35ul @ 0.0183ng/ul). These extracts will be retained at Bode for possible further studies.
3. See related Forensic Case report dated 11/2/2021.
4. This report and the attachments are for investigative/ research purposes only and are outside the scope of Bode's accreditations.

WW II human remains, circa 1942-1945
Case "BARRY"; Bud Project; GEDmatch JZ1016141; Bode Case # HMG1913-0036

I, Melinde Lutz Byrne, citizen of the United States of America and resident of Indian River County in the state of Florida, make oath and say;

That I am a board-certified genealogist and a Fellow of the American Society of Genealogists providing my experience, knowledge, and belief upon request of law enforcement and under agreement with Bode Technology, Lorton, Virginia;

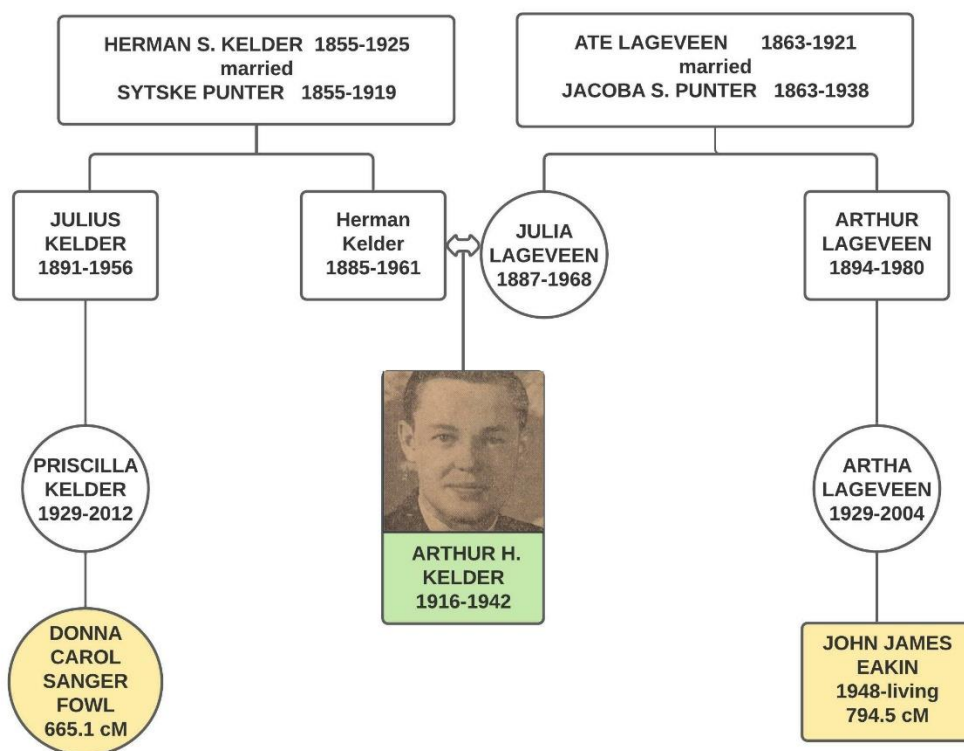

That Sample "BARRY" is sequenced DNA from bone extracted by Bode Technology from male human remains recovered after World War II and no further information has been provided (agency communications);

That autosomal DNA analysis and genealogical research produces the following recommendation:

Sample Barry is a first cousin once removed of both high test takers John James Eakin and Donna Sanger (married Fowl). Based on circumstances, ages, and dates, he is most likely Arthur H. Kelder (1916-1942).

Sample's Family Tree with Triangulating Matches

Family Tree assembled from DNA evidence, vital records, newspaper articles, obituaries, social media, Netherlands vital records (Dutch), data aggregators, ancestral trees; investigator's files; screen capture 5 January 2022. Beige figures are test takers. Green is Sample Barry.

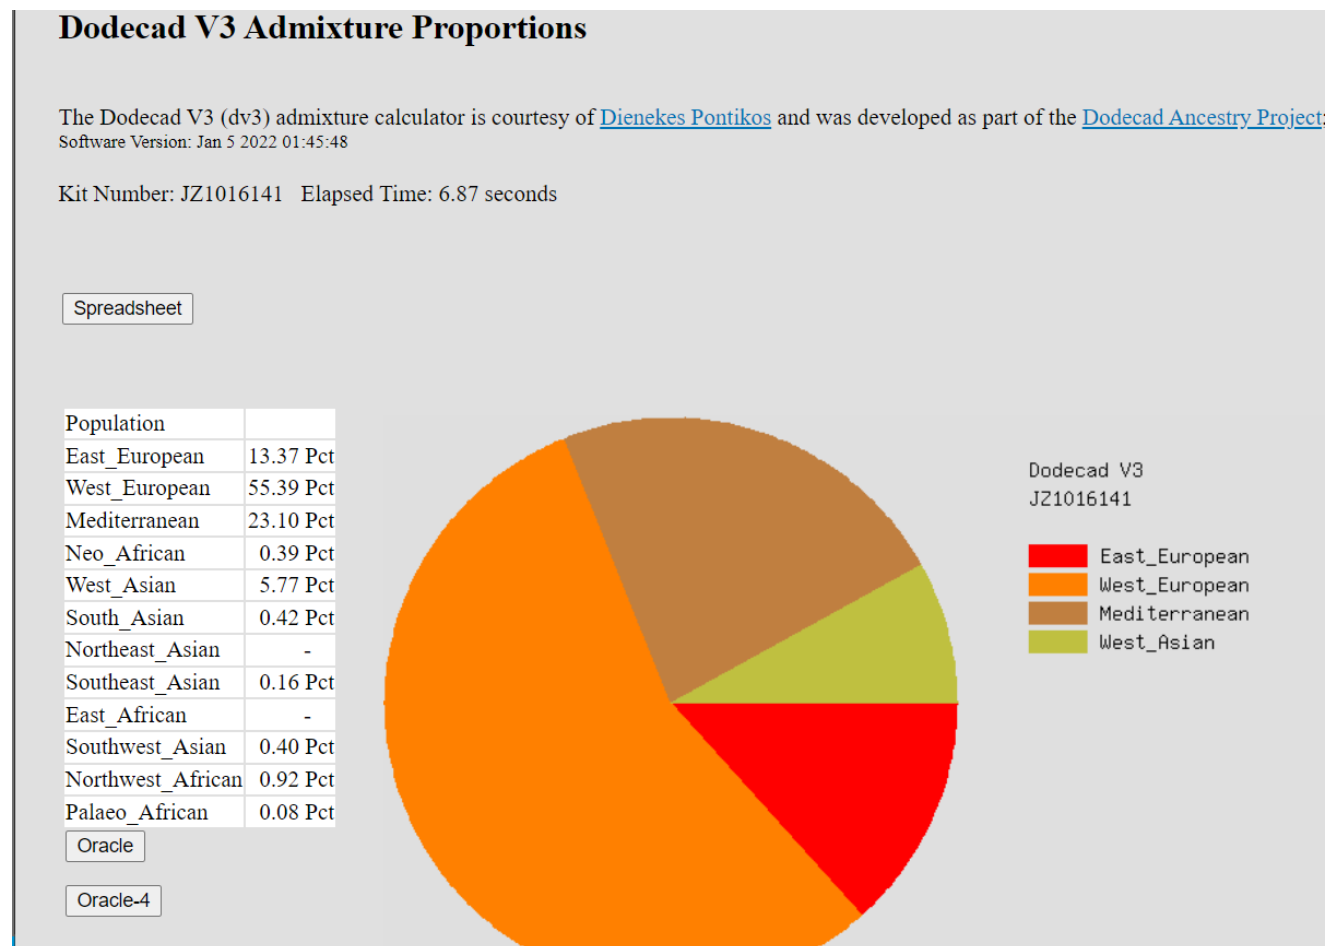

That this recommendation is based on genealogical research outlined and summarized below;

That Does (unknown human remains) qualify for law enforcement full access to test taker atDNA results in GEDmatch, currently a pool likely over 1 million kits (Terms of Service, GEDmatch);

That Sample is of 99% European origin, being primarily Western European (Exhibit A);

Exhibit A

Biogeographical Origins of Sample

GEDmatch.com, "Dodecad V3 Admixture" report for Sample; screen capture 5 January 2022.

That Sample has two high matching test takers, John James Eakin and Donna Sanger (married Fowl) who are genetically first cousins once removed to Sample, and also each are great-grandchildren of one of the Punter sisters; both sisters are grandmothers to Sample Barry (Exhibits B);

Priscilla K. Sanger

ANNAPOLIS — Priscilla "Pat" Kelder Sanger died on Dec. 26, 2012, in Annapolis, after a long illness. She was 85.

She was known for her gentle nature, her ready smile and her devotion to her family. Mrs. Sanger was born in Oak Park, Ill., on July 9, 1927, to the late Julius and Julia Kelder. After graduating from North Park College in Chicago in 1948, she married William A. Sanger in Park Ridge, Ill., after he returned from his deployment in the Navy during World War II. Accompanying her husband to his assignments in Rockford, Highland Park, and Northbrook, Ill., for a major telecommunications company, Mrs. Sanger stayed home to raise two daughters. In 1962, her husband returned to service in the Naval Intelligence and the family moved to the suburbs of Washington, D.C. Mrs. Sanger returned to work as an administrative school secretary at Paint Branch High School in Collegeville, Md., for a number of years. Settling in Annapolis in 1976, she then began to work for the Maryland Department of Transportation. She was a member of the Annapolis Yacht Club. After her husband died in 1981, she moved to England, Scotland, the Netherlands, Belgium and the Caribbean. Mrs. Sanger was also a member of the Calvary United Methodist Church of Annapolis and the Young Annapolitans Club. In 2006, she moved to Ginger Cove where she continued to enjoy gardening, needlepoint and trips to the Outer Banks of North Carolina.

Mrs. Sanger is survived by two daughters, Donna C. Sanger and her husband Guy of Arlington, Virginia, and Diane K. Larrimore and her husband J. Wayne of Crumpton. She was the grandmother of Julia Sanger of Ellicott City, Zachary and J.T. Larrimore of Crumpton, Christopher Larrimore of Annapolis, and Max Robinson of Baltimore, and the great-grandmother of Christopher and Casey Bone. She was preceded in death by her husband, William Sanger, her parents, Julius and Julia Kelder, and her brother, Jack Kelder.

A Celebration of Life will be held at 2 p.m. Jan. 27 at Ginger Cove, 4000 River Crescent Drive, Annapolis. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to your local animal rescue.

For online condolences, see www.LovingTributesFuneralCare.com.

Class B. Stokes — Class B. Stokes, 81, of Centerville, died on Friday, Dec. 21, 2012. She was 81.

She was born in Crapo on July 4, 1931, to the late

Newspapers.com, "Priscilla K. Sanger" obituary, Record Observer (Easton, Maryland), 4 January 2013, page 11, columns 2 and 3; screen capture 5 January 2022. Priscilla Kelder is mother of test taker Donna Sanger (married Fowl), daughter of Julius Kelder, and granddaughter of Herman S. Kelder and his wife Sytske Punter.

Immigrant Herman P. [sic] Kelder, was spouse of Sytske Punter, father of Julius Kelder, grandfather of Priscilla Kelder, and great-grandfather of Donna Sanger (married Fowl).

Sample Barry is a first cousin once removed of both high test takers John James Eakin and Donna Sanger (married Fowl). Based on circumstances, ages, and dates, he is most likely Arthur H. Kelder (1916-1942).

Although Sample Barry could be any grandson of Sytske Punter and Jacoba Punter, only Arthur fits all parameters and is proven to be the Sample by the triangulation with the two high test takers;

That Bode Technology is honored to have been entrusted with naming this fallen hero;

That this report with documentation in the investigator’s files meets the Genealogical Proof Standard and all standards promulgated by the Board for Certification of Genealogists, except revised Standard 57;

That I remain available at any time to discuss this further.
