1	Capt Vogl Repat Br Mem Div	Ident Br Ident Sec Mem Div (Info cy furnished Liaison)	16 Oct 50	SUBJECT: Nininger, Alexander R. 2/Lt 0-23761 1. Phoned Colonel Clark who was Nininger's commanding officer, concerning Nininger's burial place in the Philippines. Colonel Clark has written that he had personally attended the burial services. 2. In Colonel Clark's conversation with me, he said that the remains of Nininger were buried a few feet from the church. This, of course, implied that the remains were buried in the church yard. When I told Colonel Clark that a thorough search, both in and outside of the church yard failed to recover Nininger's remains, he said that it was very possible that the remains had been removed by the Japanese. While Colonel Clark could not give me positive assurance that this occurred, he cited two possible reasons for such a removal. Nininger battled the Japanese heroically, killing quite a number of them before he himself was killed. The Japanese may have decided to dispose of his remains rather than have the Americans use Nininger as an example for heroic action. The other possible reason cited by Colonel Clark, is that when the Japanese captured the area, finding a new grave, they may have decided to search the grave not only to ascertain the casualty but to search for any secret papers or documents which may have been hidden. Colonel Clark emphasized that these were only possibilities since we have been unable to locate the remains. He suggested that we notify Mr. Nininger of their non-recoverability after we have checked all other unknowns recovered from Abucay.  23 Oct 50 1. Phoned Mr. Franklin O. Anders (Lt. Col.) and located him at his residence in Leamington, Ontario, Canada, Phone: 608RL4. I told Colonel Anders that I was phoning him as a result of a quotation in the file of the late Lt. Maynard. I referred to his letter to the father of Lt. Maynard in which he wrote: "In the first four (4) days, we lost your son, Lt. D. Maynard, Lt. Kenneth Wilson, Lt. Compton, Lt. Green, Lt. Nininger and Capt. Meyer (Meier). Father Scecina conducted services at the graves of American officers, killed at Mabatang in the Abucay Church Yard". 2. I also advised Colonel Anders that I had phoned Colonel Clark who was commanding officer of the 57th Infantry Regiment at the time Nininger and his fellow officers were killed. Before going into detail concerning the death of Nininger and his fellow officers, Colonel Anders asked me if I knew the story on Colonel Clark. I told him that the only information I <sup>had</sup> knew of Colonel Clark was what appeared in the files of the decedents and that this implied that Colonel Clark departed before the Japanese captured the entire Philippines. He suggested that I look into his 201 File. I asked Colonel Anders why he thought this was necessary. Colonel Anders said Colonel Clark was relieved of his command shortly after the engagement at Mabatang in which Lt. Nininger and his fellow officers lost their lives. He further stated that Colonel Clark did not attend the burial services conducted by Father Scecina in the Abucay Church Yard.

				3. The following is in substance, the information furnished by Colonel Anders of incidents and events which transpired during the engagement at Mabatang. Colonel Anders said that Japanese artillery had shelled the entire area and a considerable number of their infantry had infiltrated close to positions held by the 57th Infantry Regiment. The shelling severely damaged some of the buildings in the Abucay Church Yard. The Abucay Church and its adjoining buildings were used as headquarters of the 57th Infantry Regiment. It was during this infiltration and shelling that Lieutenants Nininger, Compton, Green, Wilson and Maynard, lost their lives. The remains of these officers were brought into the church yard cemetery as soon as the action quieted. Father Scecina had graves dug and conducted a brief burial service. Colonel Anders as well as several other officers, were present at the services. 4. Colonel Anders believes that one or more of the officers were buried in boxes furnished by the Quartermaster and that the rest were laid in the ground with only a blanket around them. He also remembers that where identification tags were found on a decedent, one had been removed and turned over to the medics; the other was inserted into the mouth of the decedent. Colonel Anders does not know whether burial reports were prepared. All matters pertaining to the burial were left in the hands of Father Scecina who died while a prisoner of the Japanese. 5. Colonel Anders brought up the fact that the church yard was shelled by both Japanese and American forces. Particularly heavy shelling was given the church and its surrounding area by the Americans after the location was abandoned to the Japanese. Information was received that the Japanese were using it as their headquarters and Anders believes that as a result of shelling by American forces, some of the graves may have been destroyed and the remains scattered. 6. Colonel Anders also brought up the matter of a searching of the graves after the Japanese had captured Abucay. He said that our own forces many times searched mounds in graveyards since the Japanese in a number of instances stored arms and ammunition in grave sites. He said that perhaps the Japanese believed that we may have used graves as a storage place for ammunition and decided to dig grave sites and through such an operation, the remains became lost. 7. I told Colonel Anders of the fourteen (14) graves we found on the outside of the church wall and that an examination of these remains indicated two (2) were Americans and twelve (12) Filipinos. I told him one grave was that of Lt. McCurdy, the other American having no identifying characteristics, was still designated as an unknown. Colonel Anders asked me to read him the names of the Filipinos we identified we found outside the wall. I read the names to him and he said he knew them all. He told me that the individual listed as Castro should be Castro Mania.

1	Capt Vogl Contd Repat Br Mem Div	Ident Br Ident Sec Mem Div (Info cy furnished Liaison)	23 Oct 50	SUBJECT: Nininger, Alexander R. 2/Lt 0-23761 8. I asked whether it was possible that these five (5) officer whose remains have not been recovered could have been buried on the outside of the church yard wall. He said to the best of his memory, the men were buried in the church yard proper; however, if a re-burial during Japanese occupation occurred, the remains may have been re-interred outside of the church yard. Colonel Anders said this was merely a supposition and should not be accepted as a fact. 9. In my long conversation with Colonel Anders, it was very apparent that he knew and recalled more about the events subsequent to the death of these officers than did Colonel Clark. Colonel Clark appeared hesitant in giving information, always referring me to letters he sent the AG or next of kin. On the other hand, Colonel Anders tried to assist in every way possible by voluntary information so that we could have a complete understanding of what transpired immediately after these officers were killed. He said he will make himself available to furnish any additional information which we may not have discussed at this time. In addition, he suggested that I communicate with Lt. Colonel Johnson and Lt. Colonel Olson for their version of the events which took place after Lt. Nininger and his fellow officers were killed.  24 Oct 1. Major John E. Olson, 022125, 5025 Student Detachment, Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas (Phone 23234), confirmed to a general extent the information furnished by Lt. Colonel Anders. However, he was more specific on the battle action which took the lives of Lt. Nininger and his fellow officers. 2. Major Olson said he did not attend the interment service for Nininger or any other officers killed in the Mabatang engagement. He said he remembers Nininger's death and that he was informed that Nininger's as well as several other officer's remains were recovered and buried in or near the Abucay Church Yard. He never had time to visit any graves but he heard that Anders and Captain Garnet P. Francis, dental officer, were with Chaplain Scecina when the remains were buried. 3. Major Olson asked me what remains we recovered nearby or in the church yard at Abucay. He said he desired this information to refresh his memory on the various officers who were killed in the Matabang engagement. I started off by giving him the name of Lt. McCurdy and then mentioned Lt. Cheney. Here Major Olson interrupted. He said that Cheney could not have been interred in or nearby the Abucay Church Yard since he was killed long after the town of Abucay was abandoned to the Japanese.

1 Contd	Capt Vogl Repat Br Mem Div	Ident Br Ident Sec Mem Div (Info cy furnished Liaison)	24 Oct 50	SUBJECT: Nininger, Alexander R. 2/Lt 0-23761 4. I told Major Olson that I was referring to the names of all officers reported as buried and was not limiting myself to those interred in or near the church yard. 5. Major Olson said that Cheaney was not killed in the Matabang engagement but was KIA off the west coast near the town of Agloloma. This occurred 30 January 1942, at least ten (10) days after Abucay had been evacuated. He said Lt. Cheaney's platoon had been withdrawn on or about 20 January 1942, to be attached to the 3rd Battalion. This battalion was endeavoring to confine the Japanese who had landed on the west coast. 6. He said it was during an assault on Japanese positions at Quinauan Pt. when Lt. Cheaney was killed and his remains were taken to Mariveles Cemetery for interment. Major Olson continued that the arrangements for burial in Mariveles was made or supervised by Capt. Anthony who was Cheaney's Commanding Officer. 7. The rest of the discussion related to positions of the 57th Regiment after the fall of Abucay. Olson said that they fell back to a line about one mile, south of Balanga. This was on or about 22 January 1942. On or about 30 January 1942, the 57th Regiment was somewhat broken up and many of its units were sent to west coastal areas to support troops endeavoring to prevent Japanese landings. 8. He suggested, I communicate with Major Sanders, Regimental Personnel Officer as well as Capt. Anthony. NOTE: The comment of Major Olson concerning Lt. Cheaney, first brought out the possibility that the remains now interred in the cemetery at West Point, may not be those of this decedent. The 293 file of Lt. Cheaney, indicates his remains were recovered from the Abucay Church Yard twelve paces to the right of the south center door of this church. The location of the alleged grave was obtained from a copy of a letter Mr. Cheaney, the father, wrote to Congressman Nixon on 4 January 1948. In this letter, Mr. Cheaney said he met Colonel Clark, and after much talking Colonel Clark said Cheaney was buried "twelve steps right from the south center door". On the basis of this information, a cable was sent the overseas Command, requesting them to investigate. The overseas Command located remains twelve steps from the door and the remains were designated as those of Lt. Cheaney. The report indicates: No identifying clue recovered with remains. Since Lt. Cheaney was killed on 30 January 1942, approximately 30 miles away from Abucay, it is evident that the remains of Lt. Cheaney could not have been buried in the Abucay Church Yard, which had been lost to the Japanese on or about 21 January 1942.

Continued 1	Capt Vogl Repat Br Mem Div	Ident Br Ident Sec Mem Div (Info cy furnished Liaison)	25 Oct 50	SUBJECT: Nininger, Alexander R. 2/Lt O-23761  1. Phoned Major Cecil M. Sanders and located him in Fort Benning, Georgia, where he is assigned as an instructor at the Infantry School (he can be reached at Fort Benning 3462).  2. Major Sanders' report on events which transpired during and subsequent to the engagement in Matabang varies to a certain degree with the information furnished by Colonel Anders. Sanders was regimental S-1 and as such had direct charge of the personnel records. In the course of the Matabang engagement he performed actual combat duty since the casualties among officers were unusually heavy and he was called to direct the activities of detached companies and platoons.  3. The following, in substance, is the information I obtained from Major Sanders. The Abucay Church and its adjoining building had not been selected nor had been in use as regimental headquarters before the start of the Matabang battle. It was after the Japanese had infiltrated near American positions on the outskirts of Abucay that headquarters was set up at Abucay Church. Lts. Nininger, Compton, Green, Wilson and Maynard were holding positions on the outskirts of Abucay when the Japanese penetrated to a point where they either had to be driven out or the town of Abucay evacuated. Lt. Nininger was killed after he routed the Japanese who had infiltrated close to the Abucay Church <sup>Abucay Church</sup> area. His heroic effort won for him the first Congressional Medal of Honor in World War II. The remains of Lt. Nininger were brought back to the Church Yard and turned over to Father Scecina who had assumed charge of burying all remains. Lt. Nininger had been killed on 12 January 1942 about nine o'clock in the morning.  4. Lt. Green was killed while in a fox hole as a result of Japanese mortar shells. Lt. Compton, who was in the fox hole with Lt. Green, managed to get out and assume command of the platoon. Fifteen minutes later Lt. Compton was killed as he was leading the platoon in an attack on Japanese positions in an endeavor to silence the Japanese mortar batteries.  5. Major Sanders said that he was quite certain "that the remains of Compton were never recovered." With respect to Lt. Green he made the following remark, "Although I know that the body was badly cut up, I believe someone told me that they took the body out of the fox hole and delivered it to the Church Yard. However, my memory is not clear on this and I don't want you to look upon this as official." Compton and Green had been killed in the afternoon of 12 January 1942.  6. Lt. Wilson was killed late in the afternoon of 12 Jan 42 while endeavoring to bring some wounded back to the temporary hospital set up in Abucay. He evidently had taken a jeep and managed to load a couple of wounded boys when he himself was hit. The Japanese machine gun almost severed his body at his waist. This statement by Maj. Sanders confirms the previous information which was obtained on Wilson from a sergeant in Wilson's platoon.

Sanders did not recall exactly how he was killed but he remembers that Maynard's body was brought to a place near the Abucay Church and turned over to Father Scecina. Maynard was also killed on 12 Jan 42. In connection with the above information Maj. Sanders said that it is possible that after so many years he may have incidents pertaining to one or more of these officers confused with what happened to another; however, he feels reasonable sure that in general the information he gave me reflects the events which happened on 12 Jan 42.  8. Maj. Sanders then asked me if we had recovered the remains of Lts. McCurdy and Cheaney. I told him that Lt. McCurdy's remains had been found on the outskirts of the south wall of the Church Yard. Realizing that there was a question on the recovery of Cheaney's remains, I told him that I did not have the file at hand but believed that the remains had been recovered. Maj. Sanders then asked me whether I knew where Cheaney had been killed. I told him that I believed it was at Agloloma Point. He said this was correct and it was either the 30th or 31st of Jan 42. He then suggested that, in the event we did not recovery Cheaney's remains, we communicate with Capt. Eugene H. Anthony who was Cheaney's commander. He told me that Capt. Anthony had developed tuberculosis, while a prisoner of war and has been retired for physical disability. I told Maj. Sanders that I would communicate with Capt. Anthony not only to discuss Cheaney, but also for any other information he may have concerning the burial of Nininger, Compton, Green, Wilson and Maynard. Maj. Sanders asked me about Capt. Meier. I told him we had recovered the remains which were buried in Mariveles Cemetery approximately 25 miles from Abucay.  9. Maj. Sanders said that we should communicate with <sup>both</sup> either Lt. Col. Ernest Wermitz <sup>NIG</sup> regimental surgeon, and Maj. Garnet P. Francis, a dental officer. He said that actually Maj. Francis knew more about burials <sup>than</sup> Col. Wermitz <sup>and</sup> since the surgeon seemed to develop "battle fatigue" after the first Japanese shell hit in Abucay. It was Maj. Francis who more or less performed the emergency surgical work in the field. Maj. Francis also assisted in recovering remains and helping Father Scecina. Maj. Sanders feels quite certain that Maj. Francis attended the interments in Abucay Church Yard.    1. In order to clarify certain discrepancies <sup>among</sup> the information furnished by Col. Anders, Maj. Sanders and Maj. Olsen, I again phoned Col. Anders to ascertain whether he was certain that the remains of all five officers (Nininger, Compton, Green, Wilson and Maynard) were buried side by side in the Church Yard at Abucay. Col. Anders said that after a review of what he had previously told me he expressed concern lest I believe that they were all buried side by side. He said that, if he had given me that impression, it was not correct. He definitely remembers that Nininger and Maynard were buried close together. He is not sure whether Compton's remains were recovered but remembers hearing a report that there wasn't much of him left. He feels reasonably sure that Wilson was buried in or near the Church Yard and that Green's body was recovered.

The Captain confirmed, in substance, what has been previously furnished by Col. Anders, Maj. Olson and Maj. Sanders. The Japanese counterattacked and drove the Americans back several hundred yards. It was approximately 7 or 8 days later when the Americans again recovered the lost ground and also the remains of Lt. Anthony said that he never visited Mariveles Cemetery since his unit was continually in action until the surrender. I brought to his attention a statement by Col. Clark to the effect that he had written the parents of Lt. Cheaney that his remains were buried in Abucay Church Yard. Capt. Anthony said that this could not be possible since the recovery of Cheaney's remains was made in the early part of February and that Abucay had long since been occupied by the Japanese forces.  6. Capt. Anthony said he would be very happy to provide additional information should we need his services. He told me that he did not write the family of Lt. Cheaney

The name of the officer who might turn out to be the "unknown" discovered near the church at Abucay - near McCarry's body was Capt (a Major) Alex S. The only officer whose funeral I attended was 1st Lt Victor Crowell (USMA '39) Co D 57th Inf (PS) who was killed near end of Dec '41 by accidental gunshot. ~~and~~ He was buried some little distance from the Abucay church - less than 1 km, I should say, to the west. 3	Ident Br Mem Div	Thru: Chief OSO Memorial Division	20 Nov 50	SUBJECT: 1/Lt Ira B. Cheaney Jr., SN O-23965 (Major Discrepancy) 1. Reference attached telephone conversations between Capt Vogl and the following officers of the 57th
Inf Regt (PS)	pertaining	to the	death and burial	of 2/Lt Alexander R. Ninninger, SN O-23761:
		Lt Col	Franklin O. Anders
		Major	John E. Olson
		Major	Cecil M. Sanders
		Captain	Eugene H. Anthony
		Colonel	Edmund J. Lilly
		2d Lt	Fred W. Koenig

These conversations revealed information which indicates that the remains presently interred in U. S. Military Academy Post Cemetery, West Point, New York, as 1/Lt Ira B. Cheaney Jr., O-23965, are not those of Lt Cheaney.

2. Lt Cheaney reported for duty 20 November 1941 to the Philippine Department, 57th Inf Regt (PS), commanded by Lt Col George S. Clarke. Col Arnold J. Funk relieved Col Clarke of his command 13 January 1942, shortly after the engagement at Mabatang, Bataan, P.I., approximately three miles north of Abucay, where the 57th Inf Regt CP was located, in the Abucay Church.

3. On 20 January 1942, approximately six (6) days before the Abucay-Hacienda line was evacuated back to the Pilar-Bagac line 26 January, Lt Cheaney's company was withdrawn from the area and sent to the western coast of Bataan to repel Japanese landings at Quinsuan Point in the vicinity of Agloloma. On 30 January 1942, Lt Cheaney was killed after advancing approximately one hundred (100) yards, while leading an attack on Japanese positions. A counterattack by the Japanese forced the American forces to withdraw several hundred yards. It was several days later, 7-8 February, that the Americans regained this lost ground. The remains of Lt Cheaney were recovered and identified by Capt Eugene H. Anthony who had been his immediate commanding officer in the engagements at Mabatang and Agloloma. When Capt Anthony first saw the body of Lt Cheaney, 2/Lt Fred W. Koenig, a Graves Registration Officer assigned to the 45th Infantry, was standing near the remains. After Capt Anthony had established the identification, Lt Koenig informed him that the remains of Lt Cheaney, as well as all others killed in the area, would be taken to Mariveles Cemetery. There Lt Koenig supervised the burial of Lt Cheaney.

4. In the vicinity of Mariveles there are two (2) cemeteries, Mariveles #1 and #3. Although Lt Koenig did not specify in which cemetery the burial was made, a reinvestigation was made of all unresolved Unknowns in these cemeteries. There are only two (2) Unknowns from USA Cemetery #1 Mariveles, and they have been disassociated with Lt Cheaney by circumstances of death. The Unknowns from USA Cemetery #3 Mariveles, have been disassociated with Lt Cheaney by height, weight and dental characteristics, with the exception of X-21, currently designated X-151, Manila #2. Lt Cheaney's WDAGO Form 0164, Statement of Candidate dated 4 March 1947, indicates a broken arm. An association may be established by the circumstances of recovery and dental information. Unknown X-151 Manila #2 was found to have

In June or July 1942, Lt Cheaney's parents talked with Col Clarke in San Francisco in an attempt to obtain information concerning the death of their son and to learn his burial location. Col Clarke, who did not know the facts, stated that Lt Cheaney was buried in the Churchyard at Abucay twelve steps right from the south center door. Mr Cheaney gave this information to the Honorable Richard Nixon who forwarded it to this office 26 January 1948. Upon receipt of this letter the information was submitted to the field and a search team was dispatched to the area where fragmented remains were recovered. These remains were identified as Lt Cheaney solely on the statement by Col Clarke. 6. December 10, 1942

MEMORANDUM FOR LIEUTENANT H. MOUL, DEPT. OF THE ARMY

1. Forwarded herewith is a bottle containing pathological tissues, in 10% formalin, in the case of Max Cohen SHERMAN, Chief Wastewater, U.S. Navy, who died November 22, 1942, of Bloodwater Fever.

2. The tissues previously erroneously submitted under the name of Max Cohen Sweeney were from the case of John T. FREEMAN, Sgt., U.S. Army, who died November 24, 1942, of beriberi, malaria, and military tuberculosis. The latter disease was discovered at post mortem examination. A history and report of autopsy in the case of Freeman is appended.

3. I regret that this error occurred.

Respectfully,

L.B. GALEY,
Commander, Medical Corps, U.S. Navy.

MEMO ON X-151

1. There is no evidence of comingling.

2. Age: Estimated age at death 25 to 30 years. Cranial sutures show nearly complete obliteration of sagittal and lambdoid. The coronal is open and a metopic suture is present and was also open. Remains of the pelvis are too fragmentary to use in estimating synphial age.

3. Stature: No complete bones are present and consequently an estimate of stature is impossible.

ALL 4. Dentition: Does not give any good evidence for identification. ~~None~~ of the lower teeth are present and probably two or three from the upper jaw. The mandible is badly broken and it is impossible to restore the teeth to their nearest alveoli.

5. The shaft of the right femur shown an old, healed greenstick fracture situated in the upper third of the shaft. There is considerable antero-lateral bowing.

6. A suggestion has been presented that X-151 is the remains of Ira B. Cheaney, Jr. Form 371 data indicates a stature of 6'11 1/2" and age at death of 25 years. Estimated age would harmonize with this suggestion, but it is not clearly evident that the bones are those of a man as tall as Cheaney. In my opinion it is not possible to associate X-151 certainly with the data available for Cheaney.
